Pots, Judging, Chapel & More

After an early career devoted to ceramics, Keith created pots and different shapes for a string of large retailers including Laura Ashley, Heals, Monsoon, Habitat and Conran. In 2008, he met his business partner, Dominic Speelman and subsequently joined MAKE International as Director and Head of Design. They set up a studio in a converted bakery based in Whitstable along the Kent coastline. Keith designs every single item on his potter's wheel before he takes the prototypes to China to work with his colleagues at the factories. Keith visits the factories at least twice a year to meet with his quality control team on the factory floor to ensure the highest standard of quality is maintained. Every item in the Word Range is hand-debossed and checked by the quality control team at least three times. As the business grew, Keith expanded his Word Range and began collaborating with other designers, illustrators and creators to bring inspiring ceramic products to those who love design.

Keith's Word Range has produced over 500 products and it is sold in over forty countries with a large and loyal following. To this day, the Word Range follows Keith's design philosophy:

'to create simple yet stylish products which are pleasing to the eye, practical in the modern home and, above all, make people happy!'

Keith is a passionate advocate for art, craft and design education. He believes that everyone should have the opportunity to make and create. He can often be seen extolling the virtues of creativity to students of all ages at various schools, colleges and events.

In 2015, he debuted as the expert judge on the TV show 'The Great Pottery Throw Down', where his readiness to shed tears at seeing the contestants' work attracted many comments in the media. We are hoping Keith will return to our screens for the 9th Series in 2025.

Keith and his partner, Marj, bought a huge chapel in Pwllheli, North Wales and finally moved in after a huge renovation project. A film crew have been following the lovely couple through out the process and you can now catch up with their progress on Channel 4 show, 'Our Welsh Chapel Dream'. Hugely exciting and busy times ahead for Keith.

"I am very much a believer in producing work of quality and an aesthetic that stands the test of time. We all have a favourite mug and hopefully yours is one of mine!"

FRANCES COLLETT

Frances Collett is a British designer and artist who founded her design business in 2019. Her design signature of mid-century style forms are fused with softer Scandinavian and French delicate touches, which can be found on large scale prints, stationery and homeware.

Painting, drawing, and photography are the route of all design and planning for Frances. Designing from the minute that she could hold a pencil, Frances Collett started off her design career in jewellery, becoming a qualified silversmith with the help of The Prince's Trust. She continued the journey of her love of design in 2012 when she studied fashion design, followed by surface design at UAL. She moved to Bristol to explore its art and design scene, where she founded her design business, specialising in mid-century and Scandi style visuals.

Keith Brymer Jones has curated a stylish range of ceramic mugs to showcase Frances' talent and offer a design-led classic work-of-art for the home.

mini moderns®

Often described as 'cult Brit homewares brand', Mini Moderns was established in 2006 by London based designers, Keith Stephenson and Mark Hampshire.

The duo's design influences encompass mid-century British textiles, ceramics and collectibles. Sharing a passion for social history, Mark and Keith's work is often informed by music, literature and travel, leading them to describe their design ethos as 'pattern with a story'.

As well as launching their own collections, Mini Moderns have worked on many commissions in the culture sector, including collaborations with the Courtauld Gallery, Southbank Centre, National Theatre, London Transport Museum, Turner Contemporary and Museum of London.

Mark and Keith first met Keith Brymer Jones when they were all exhibiting at a London trade show in 2015. Perhaps long overdue, 'the Modern Kitchen Collection' curated by Keith Brymer Jones is finally here!

KIRAN RAVILIOUS

Kiran Ravilious is a pattern designer who uses the old fashioned technique of lino printing to develop her designs for textiles and paper goods.

Established in 2012, her designs have a hint of the tropics to them as she was raised in Singapore. While never strictly botanical, her work is a unique fusion of very different inspirations: the lush tropical growth of her homeland with the delicate patterns of English nature. She hand-prints beautiful designs for fabrics, wallpapers and stationery at her studio in Leicester. Her work is a 'mix of both worlds', drawing on the traditional hand-printing techniques of Asia and the artistic legacy of the Ravilious family that she has married into.

Kiran Ravilious has been commissioned by Heals and has her designs stocked in many museums, galleries and shops across the UK including Kew Gardens, Fortnum and Mason, Daunt Books, Lutyens & Rubinstein and more. Her work has been featured in publications including The Guardian, The Sunday Times, Homes & Antiques, House Beautiful, Period Living and Country Living magazines.

Carefully curated by Keith Brymer Jones, we are delighted to be bringing her beautiful designs onto these range of ceramic mugs. An exciting new collaboration which adds a touch of sophistication to your home.
